RE: Century of Values Tour

This note is a follow up to recent letter from Bob Mesereau, Director of the BSA's 100th Anniversary project informing you of our A Century of Values tour. Briefly, a group of dedicated volunteers and former professional Scouters conceived, developed and are on the verge of launching a national tour to all local council offices. Their mission is to present to each of you a framed, historical mural created by Eagle Scout Bill Morrison. To learn about Eagle Scout Bill and the mural visit <http://www.acenturyofvalues.org/mural/>.

In fact, a visit to <http://www.acenturyofvalues.org/> will demonstrate the quality of the work of this group and the value they can add to your local council 100th anniversary celebration.

My request is that you have a member of your team work with Advisor Frank Mallon on coordinating the A Century of Values team's visit to your council. You may also want to have a key volunteer involved. Frank will contact the individuals you enlist for some local data and will answer any of their/your questions about the tour.

Frank will be attending the National Meeting in San Diego and will have an information packet for each local council. You may contact him in advance:

This exciting project will help lift up Scouting in every local council in America.

Best wishes for continued good Scouting.
